

BUILDING FAMILY

AS SECOND-GENERATION OWNERS OF JOHN S. McMANUS, INC., a general contracting company based in Chester Heights, Pennsylvania, brothers John and Mike McManus lead their company with the same core values of hard work that were instilled in them by their father.

With expertise in hospital projects across the region, John McManus recalls the company's first project with Doylestown Hospital nearly thirty years ago. "Architects we worked with recommended that we be added to the bidder list for the Medical Surgical unit and the fourth floor Rehab projects. We submitted the most competitive bid and won the project," says John. "The rest is history!" More recently, the McManus company led the construction of the Clark Center for Breast Imaging and the Morel Family Foundation Center for Prenatal Care and now oversees the rebuilding of Children's Village early childhood education center on the hospital campus.

Working in close partnership with Doylestown Hospital medical staff, Associates, and administrators over the years gave the McManus brothers opportunities to observe all facets of hospital operations. This experience also prompted their earliest philanthropic gifts to Doylestown Health.

"Doylestown Health, in our eyes, is unlike any other hospital. It has successfully created a unique, holistic, and loving environment where patients and their families receive the exceptional support and care that they need to heal properly."
